MISSION

South Asian Network was founded in 1990 to provide an open forum where individuals of South Asian origin could gather to discuss social, economic, and political issues affecting the community, with the goal of raising awareness, active involvement and advocacy among community members leading to an informed and empowered community. The overall goal of SAN is to inform and empower South Asian communities by acting as an agent of change in eliminating biases, discrimination and injustices targeted against persons of South Asian origin and by providing linkages amongst communities through shared experiences.

OBJECTIVE

South Asian Network (SAN) is a grassroots, community based organization dedicated to advancing the health, empowerment and solidarity of persons of South Asian origin in Southern California.

PROJECTS

Outreach: SAN’s outreach efforts are a tool that allows us to build solidarity amongst the various South Asian communities. The outreach events provide an opportunity for SAN to delineate the South Asian communities in Southern California. This allows SAN to better serve the community by focusing our efforts to the locations highly populated by South Asians and tailoring our policy and advocacy efforts to address specific concerns and issues of the particular community.

Health: SAN is committed to promoting healthy lifestyle behavior and health access for the underserved in the community. Health and health care access are two major concerns for South Asians. Through the Community Health Action Initiative (CHAI) which brings together a unique collaboration of public agencies, community and faith based institutions and a network of South Asian health care providers, SAN has prioritized the preventive health needs of the community by conducting various targeted interventions such as workshops, outreach and case management.

Awaz - Voices Against Violence: Awaz is committed to the empowerment of survivors of violence. Awaz advocates provide a comprehensive spectrum of culturally and linguistically-specific prevention and intervention services. We address issues of violence within the community through outreach, education, case management, and advocacy. Awaz advocates have made a concerted effort in establishing visibility of the quandary of immigrant communities, given that language, cultural barriers and policies impede access to resources. Toward such an end, Awaz utilizes a public health model to improve service delivery to survivors of domestic violence through stage-matched case management services. In an effort to encourage greater participation in violence prevention from the South Asian communities’ religious leaders, youth and other male members, the unit has provided several trainings, with another domestic violence training to follow in February, 2008. To date, SAN has assisted 1,140 survivors of violence and their children by providing case management, legal assistance, shelter placement, and mental health services through counseling, art workshops and support groups. As such, SAN has served as a forum for survivors of violence to speak out about their experiences, which serves to mobilize other individuals toward a safe and healthy life.

Anti Discrimination / Hate Crimes: SAN is committed to challenging societal attitudes, policies, and institutions that foster inequality. We offer culturally sensitive support and assistance to survivors of hate crimes and discrimination through case management, counseling, and advocacy. In response to the backlash of 9-11, so far, SAN has assisted 75 community members dealing with bias motivated issues with securing protection and appropriate compensation for the survivors and successfully upholding their civil rights.

Immigration: SAN has engaged in broad based community outreach and education, engaged in immigration policy advocacy, organized legal clinics and provided community members with appropriate legal referrals. Moreover since 2003 SAN has continued to assist detainees at the Mira Loma Detention Facility in Lancaster to ensure that South Asian detainees at the facility have adequate knowledge of theirs rights, link detainees to appropriate legal counsel and to assess how their family members are coping with the situation. We have also documented incidents of Department of Homeland Security (DHS) misconduct in the facility.

Policy Reform and Action: Building upon more than a decade of advocacy work, establishing trust and credibility within the South Asian community and a deep commitment to social justice, SAN continues to build its capacity to empower and develop leadership among persons of South Asian origin to speak out on policy issues that affect their lives and join with other racial/ethnic communities in policy reform actions and campaigns.

Access to Legal Services: Through partnerships with various public law agencies and attorneys in private practices, SAN has provided assistance to hundreds of community members in the areas of immigration and citizenship, government benefits, family law, workers’ rights, and consumer protection.

MISSION
To provide much-needed social services to the Tongan community. Virtually all the mainstream agencies and programs are ill-equipped to serve the Tongan community, which includes a large segment of monolingual persons unfamiliar with these agencies. This center is the primary agency providing culturally and linguistically competent services to the Tongan community.

OBJECTIVE
To provide social services, including interpretation and translation, counseling, unemployment and housing assistance, consumer education, advocacy, and information and referral to the underserved Tongan community.

SERVICES OFFERED
Treatment Services: Please contact agency for more information.

Prevention Services: Initiated by the Tongan Community Service Center in 1992, the Asian and Pacific Islander Tobacco Collaborative provides tobacco prevention, education and cessation services under funding from the LA County DHS/Tobacco Control Program. Based on their success, the project gained support from the State Department of Health Services/Tobacco Control Section in 1999 to expand efforts in advocacy, policy change and youth leadership development state-wide.

Other Services: The Center provides free services to alleviate the problems of housing, poverty, unemployment, and language and cultural barriers in the Tongan community. A need for legal assistance is intertwined with all other needs facing the Tongan community. Help is required for Tongans seeking to become legal residents and citizens, since lack of legal status precludes Tongans from procuring employment training and higher paying jobs. The Tongan Community Services Center uses a variety of resources to provide support where needed.

MISSION
The mission of Exceptional Parents Unlimited (EPU) is to strengthen and empower children and families facing extraordinary medical, developmental, and parenting challenges.

OBJECTIVES
- Promoting the development of infants and children with special medical, developmental or emotional needs;
- Supporting and assisting parents as they grow in the understanding, knowledge and skills needed to help themselves and their children experience success at home and in the community;
- Supporting the development of secure parent-child relationships as the basis for optimal social and emotional development;
- Strengthening the relationships between parents and professionals; and
- Collaborating with other agencies to support the creation of inclusive, family centered services that are responsive and welcoming to all children and parents.

SERVICES OFFERED
The Family Resource Center program
The Family Resource Center (FRC) at EPU is a place for parents of children with disabilities. The FRC provides parents and the community with many services:

Parent to Parent Support Groups
The FRC provides support groups for any and all parents, grandparents, and foster parents who have concerns about the development of their children from birth to school age and into adulthood. The support groups are staffed by Family Resource Specialists who are also parents of children with disabilities. EPU believes powerful and unique support comes from staff members who also have children with disabilities.

The Learning About Parenting program
Learning about Parenting (LAP) provides overburdened families many family-centered services. These services are designed to assist with the family's life challenges and promote strong and healthy families. This is done through home visitation and family visits to EPU.

- Home visitation services
- Counseling services
- LAP workshops

The Play and Grow program
The Play and Grow Program at EPU provides play groups for families who are currently participating in any of EPU's programs. Play and Grow enrichment groups help children to socialize with peers and build relationships. Parents can track the development and progress of their child to help plan their Individual Family Service Plan (IFSP).

Infants and toddlers learn best when they are interested, supported, and nurtured. Play and Grow provides positive interactions and play opportunities to help infants and toddlers build relationships with other children and adults. Age appropriate toys and activities are available and early literacy is encouraged by routines of singing, finger play, repetitive play, sign language and relationship building. The children's experiences are self-initiated and supported by Play and Grow staff members.

Play sessions are offered at the following times:
- Monday and Friday from 9:30 - 11:30 and,
- Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 1:30 - 3:30

The Assessment Center for Children
The Assessment Center for Children at Exceptional Parents Unlimited (EPU) assesses children whose parents/caregivers have multiple concerns about their child's learning, development, and/or behavior. The center is staffed by medical, mental health, and other professionals from several different agencies. Staff from these agencies is located at EPU and can offer Fresno County children, birth through 5 years of age, and their families, more comprehensive assessment services in one location.

MISSION
To decrease the incidence and impact of substance abuse in the Asian and Pacific Islander communities of the San Francisco Bay Area. To accomplish this goal, AARS develops and provides innovative prevention, treatment and research services. Because there are multiple causes and effects of alcohol and other drug abuse, AARS engages in ancillary activities to meet its goal AARS continues to respond to unmet needs in the community. As the Asian Pacific Islander population grows and changes, it faces cultural transition, intergenerational conflict, discrimination and marginalization. AARS recognizes the consequences of these conditions in problems such as family disintegration, juvenile delinquency, and alcohol and drug abuse. As long as these problems persist, AARS will strive to achieve its mission.

OBJECTIVES
1. To decrease the incidence and impact of substance abuse
2. To be a culturally responsive alternative to existing treatment programs

Refugee Employment Social Services
Refugee Employment Social Services (RESS) program will have three components. They are intensive case management, employment referral services and social services, including services for youth and elderly adults.

All program participants are evaluated to determine employment-readiness status. Employment-ready refugees are referred to employment service agencies or private employers to find and begin a job. Non-employment-ready refugees are referred to the appropriate workshops, skills training, language training, transportation or childcare provider to overcome their individual barrier to employment. As barriers are overcome and refugees become employment-ready, they are referred to employment service agencies as indicated above. Refugees will be enrolled in VESL courses through Goodwill Industries. Lao Family will conduct three job-and-job-search workshops (one each in March, June and September) for a minimum of 10 clients per workshop or 30 total.
